Hailing from Hampshire, Great Britain, Dead Crow Road are a Outlaw Country Music Band with Americana influences. Their high energy performances have captioned the attention of the music industry across the globe and an ever-growing fan base and popularity have seen them secure a Nashville label deal to cement their hard work and dedication to their craft.

The band members have a wealth of music experience with lead vocalist and founder of Dead Crow Road, Steve Hampton having worked with The Vapors, Joe Jackson and more recently Ashley Campbell.

Bassist, Matt Hughes is one of the best in the business and has recorded many sessions for the BBC and Channel 4

Their latest single Radar Love raised their profile even further and saw them sign to Creative and Dreams Music Network
